MIGHTY EIGHTH ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP

Preserving the Legacy of the Mighty Eighth

NATIONAL MUSEUM OF THE MIGHTY EIGHTH AIR FORCE

Sharing the stories of the Greatest Generation with the next generation

YOUR COMMITMENT TO OUR MISSION

Supporters and members of the National Museum of the Mighty Eighth Air Force show their commitment to preserving the stories of the Mighty Eighth and honoring its heroes from WWII to the present.

Colonel Brent Bracewell
Museum Member and Supporter

“Although I was born 17 years after WWII ended, supporting the Museum gives me a direct connection to those that served and sacrificed as members of the Eighth Air Force in WWII. The National Museum of the Mighty Eighth Air Force is not so much an “aircraft” museum as it is a “people” museum. While aircraft, the world, and the way we wage war have vastly changed since WWII, the people that serve and the people that support and love the United States are generally the same.

I believe my family and I connect with those that lived and struggled during the war years of WWII and it gives us hope for what we and our country are facing today.

What the Mighty Eighth completed and sacrificed is one of the greatest stories of U.S. determination and willingness to sacrifice. Such stories cannot be forgotten and need to be retold so future generations can take pride in being an American. Any fan or history buff of the Mighty Eighth should consider supporting the Museum. When you do, you get a feeling of ownership in preserving the stories, and accomplishments of an aerial combat unit, the size of which this country will never see again”
